Life Is a Highway

"I want to ride it all night long..."

Life is a series of roads which take us to our destination in life. As one road ends, another begins; however, our memories and the people whom we meet along the way are carried with us for eternity. Although we may encounter many bumps on our journey through life, we must keep our eyes set on the future. One day when we reach our destination, we can glance back at the map of our lives and realize how each road, friend, and memory defined who we have become.

Student Life

As the 2004-2005 school year approached, students found their way easily into the usual routine of school and student life. Without any bumps in the road, the school year started off with a fresh rejuvenation, centered around a number of new things. New faces, including new students, teachers, and principal. New rules. New school spirit. A new term for the president. New championships. And new good will. All of these things drove their way into the lives of students as the year progressed.

*"I shall be telling
this with a sigh,
Somewhere ages and ages hence: Two roads diverged in a wood, and I--
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made
all the difference."*

*-- Robert Frost,
"The Road Not Taken"*

A group of students waits excitedly in the stands for the pep rally to start. The fall event in 2004 was the first pep rally since 1998.

Seniors Jessica Ratkiewicz and Lindsey Gaudreau utilize the library in the "work together" (quietly) section. The library has become a hot spot at LHS where only VIP passes issued by Student Management can be obtained.

Junior Amanda Marques receives a bouquet of roses presented by Ludlow High School's mascot on Valentine's Day. The yearly flower sale is hosted by the student-run paper, The Cub. All proceeds go towards the publication of the monthly paper.

"I'll never forget the drama at Ludlow High." -Jess Martin, Senior

"One thing that I will remember are the great people and amazing memories I had with them." -Nevin Xavier, Freshman

"I won't forget the smell of smoke when I walk past the bathroom." -Travis Easton, Senior

1. Seniors Rob Showalter and Tanya Andre are one of the commonly seen couples who take part in PDAs (public displays of affection).

2. The toilet seats of both the girls' and boys' restrooms are frequently seen with ashes embedded into the toilet seats thanks to the smokers of LHS.

3. Senior Lauren Burtch, a lunch patrol member, stops freshman Mike Rufo from using the doors during lunch.

4. Senior Meghan Hill, along with many other students at LHS, regularly violates the newly created dress code.

5. Waiting in long lines for 15 minutes and having 5 minutes to eat your lunch will be a memory not easily forgotten.

6. Some students, including seniors Steph Lopes and Maren Gulbrandsen, say that they will remember socializing at lunch time and the lunch, itself, after leaving LHS. Maren says, "I freakin' love it. There's always time for chicken parm."

7. Senior Zack Repko walks down the main staircase, which the administration closed to prevent traffic jams. Not surprisingly, students are now jam packed into the other staircases instead.

Life @ Ludlow High

Although all high schools are similar in some respects, there are certain aspects of Ludlow High School that are unique just to the school. Thirty years down the road, it is those things that students will not forget about Ludlow High. For example, who can forget the continuous recitation of the mission statement that has been imprinted into our minds through the morning announcements? Or the silence between classes when the bells are supposed to be? Although these things are simple and minor, they are, and will be, without a doubt, memorable.

"I think it's important that we all have school spirit because we all are a family while we are in this school." —Joe Tireboschi, Junior

"School spirit rocks my socks when I wear them." —Joe Metcalfe, Junior

"I show school spirit because we all know school isn't always our favorite place to be, but being able to have fun with it makes it much easier to be here five days a week." —Brianna Arnold, Sophomore

1. Ludlow High School varsity cheerleaders and mascot put on a smile before happily pumping up the crowd.

2. A talented Mr. Brian Walsh shows off his best boxing skills after requests and encouragement from the student body during the pep rally.

Breathing Maroon & White

"Come on Lions, let's go!" This year, the cheerleaders were not the only ones expressing their school spirit. Whether it was shown by the maroon and white worn in the halls, or echoed through the stands, everyone showed a bit of school spirit. This was the first year in six years that there has been a pep rally. It was held in November 2004 for fall sports. Even though students were not accustomed to such a lively event, school colors and energy vibrated through the stands. A newfound unity at Ludlow High School was formed between students and faculty.

4.

3. Daphne Levesque, Eric Pescetta, Meghan Lavoie, Matt Turschman, and Rich McCormick joyfully file into the stands with their school spirited attire.

5. Even faculty members, including Mrs. Rebecca Mathison and Mrs. Nancy Kurty, show their school spirit by putting on their maroon and white.

4. Students from every grade stand together patriotically during the National Anthem.

6. Extreme sports fans Chris Venne, Nick Gomes, Gilberto Borges, and Mike Williams show their devotion and school spirit during football and soccer games.

The Road to the White House

Decisions, decisions; in the 2004 election, presidential candidates George W. Bush and John F. Kerry voiced their opinions concerning a variety of issues, including terrorism, the war in Iraq, abortion, gay marriage, and the importance of young people voting. For many seniors, this was the first election in which they were able to "rock the vote." Accordingly, students found a way to express their opinions through slogans and political cartoons worn on T-shirts. On November 2, 2004, seniors who were eligible to vote made their way to the Ludlow High School library. With ballots in their hands, students checked off who they thought would make the best president for the country. Although the votes were divided among the country, in the end, George W. Bush was re-elected for a 2nd term.

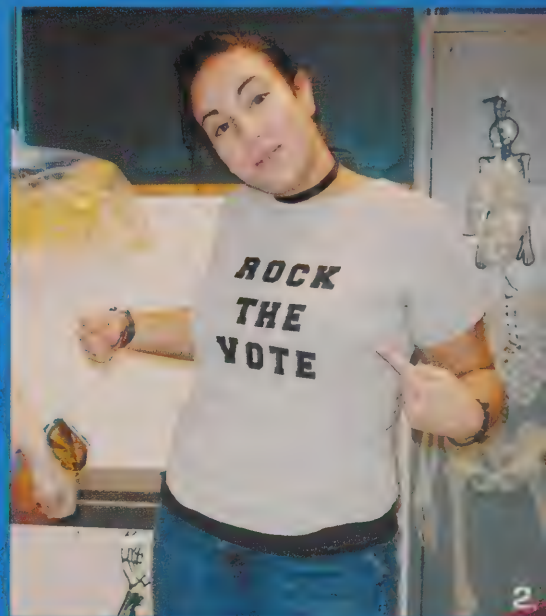

1. Democratic candidate and Massachusetts senator, John F. Kerry, opposed George W. Bush in the 2004 Presidential Election. He chose John Edwards as his running mate.

2. Senior Nicole Francisco tries to inspire other students to "Rock the Vote," a slogan coined by MTV.

3. Senior Leah Letourneau expresses her opinion of the father-son duo George H. W. Bush and George W. Bush.

4. This voting sign points to Ludlow High School's library, where people cast their vote in the 2004 presidential election.

"Voting was exciting, but disappointing at the same time because my candidate lost." --Ashley Parent, Senior

"The election showed the closeness of the partisan divide. It's also shown us that influence and power have shifted geographical, cultural, and economic regions over the last decade." --Dan Lavoie, Senior

"January 20, 2009... the countdown begins." --Chris D'Angelo, Senior

Democrats

"I am very happy that Bush won the 2004 election... I hope that he straightens out our country in a way that would make our ancestors proud of what America is today and what it has become." -Vanessa Leal, Senior

"I am a big fan of George. When it comes down to it... how I feel about my life and this country is what Bush and the Republican party represent. After '04 all I can hope for is McCain in 2008." -Samantha Burns, Junior

"That's one small step for man, one giant... I have a dream!" -Mike Gavoni, Senior

5. Senior Mike Graham displays the conservative view that Democratic candidate John Kerry was "Mr. Flip Flop" in the 2004 presidential campaign, through a political cartoon on his T-shirt.

7. Republican candidate George W. Bush and Richard Cheney acknowledge people during his presidential campaign, trying to get their support and vote for Election Day.

6. Senior Julie Bamber enthusiastically advertises her homemade T-shirt, encouraging students to "Vote Bush."

The Path to Victory

The path to victory has never been easy. Boston Red Sox fans can undoubtedly relate to this statement; however, after 86 failed attempts, the Red Sox finally "reversed the curse" in 2004. Defeating the New York Yankees in a seven-game series was an accomplishment in itself, but in addition to that, the Red Sox managed to sweep the St. Louis Cardinals for the right to be called the World Series champions.

In addition to the Red Sox win, the New England Patriots were able to succeed in re-winning the coveted Super Bowl Trophy against the Philadelphia Eagles, 24-21. The Patriots have successfully won three Super Bowls in just four years. As a result, they are now considered a "dynasty." It has undoubtedly been an amazing year, for two amazing teams.

"I'm a big fan of the Pats! They played great and beat the Steelers which is always good. Dynasty!!" -Andrew Goodreau, Junior

"The Patriots are awesome. Their team ideal is unmatched. On no other professional sports team are there such selfless players. Whoooo!!!!!" -Dave Ledoux, Junior

"The Patriots are an amazing team and they had a lot of success this year. Too bad Ted Washington's gone." -Jessica Szlosek, Senior

"It took 86 years, but it was worth it!" -Nate Blake, Freshman

"It was very enjoyable to watch!!!!" -Steph DeFeo, Freshman

"Who's your Papi? Keep the fash!" -Cat Lavalles, Junior

1. Twin sisters, Michelle and Monica Lynch show their love for the Patriots and Red Sox with their sports attire. "I love every Boston team and I'll support them till the day I die," said Monica. The twin seniors have supported both teams since they were wee little babies.

3. Junior Evelyn Lau displays her affection for the Boston Red Sox through her clothes. "There was always that appeal that you wanted to be there when the Red Sox finally won the World Series. Now that they've won, we can rest easily. Go Red Sox," says Evelyn.

2. Siblings Julia and Ronald Tetreault come from a family of ecstatic Patriots fans. Ronald said, "I love the Patriots because they're the home team and they're good, so I'm not just hopping on the bandwagon."

4. Spanish V students (clockwise), Kaitlin O'Donnell, Mike DaSilva, Nick Moutinho, Kathryn Doyle, Erin Gibbons, and Ashley Parent, proudly display their "ofrenda," an offering, to the death of the curse.

Miles of Good Will

During this school year, LHS students were eager to help the community, displaying good will through numerous activities. To start the year, the Spanish Club and NHS hosted a run drive, benefiting the hungry. They won a contest hosted by Rock 102 and Big Y, earning 500,000 education express points. During the holiday season, S.A.D.D. collected winter necessities, donating them to a local survival center. In addition, S.A.D.D. also adopted a family, providing daily items that we often take for granted. Later, student council joined the national Read Across America campaign, reading Dr. Seuss books to students in the local elementary schools. Students not only reached out to the community, they reached out internationally. After the tsunami in Southeast Asia, The Club donated $2000, in place of a trip to Washington, D.C., to the American Red Cross. The Class of 2007 also set up a campaign to provide school supplies for Iraqi school children. Clearly, the 2004-2005 school year showed the generosity of Ludlow students.

1. As a reward for student participation in adopting a family, S.A.D.D. had Mrs. Toni-Marie Mancuso feed a pig. In addition, Mr. John O'Connor had to wear a dress for the day.

2. The Spanish Club and National Honor Society collected an impressive 64,772.65 worth of cans for the Rock 102 and Big Y can drive competition against other local schools. Seniors Nick Sanchez and Nicole Silva, both NHS officers, helped to organize the collection.

3. Seniors Dwight Mangano, Craig Crowther, along with junior Matthew Goodreau and sophomore Marc Suarez, wait patiently in line for the Run-A-Pony, taking a break from waking in the Rays of Hope. The yearly walk helps to find a cure for breast cancer.

"To quote JFK, 'One person can make a difference and every person should try.'" —Alex Jorge, Senior

"I'm glad I can help and be part of the Children's everyday lives [at the Ludlow Early Childhood Center]."

"I volunteer at the Hubbard Memorial Library and nothing is more rewarding than helping children read or helping them create something completely original."

3.

4.

4. On March 2nd, Senior Nick Correia, along with other Student Council members reads The Cat in the Hat to local elementary students.

5. Senior Justin Murray donates blood at the annual LHS Bloodmobile. Every pint of blood that is given by an individual helps three other people.

6. The Cub staff including, Jessica Lamica, Julia Tetreault, and Claudia Filipe, give the Red Cross $2,000 in place of a trip to Washington, D.C. When NPR announced this, an anonymous woman kindly gave The Cub an equal check.

A Milbier sandwich! Junior Kim Milbier and her sister, senior Lori Milbier, take a break from playing volleyball at the Volleyball-a-thon, along with junior friend, Monica Holland. The older Milbier said, "Despite losing every game, we still had fun. It wasn't all about just playing volleyball. We had fun just hanging out."

Seniors Viviana Fialho, Stacey Seguro, Sarah Levesque, Nick Correia, Kaitlin O'Donnell, and Sarah DeWolf make use of the festive balloon arch, along with the tiki hut, at the Homecoming dance, "One Wild Night."

People

"Life is one big road with lots of signs. So when you're riding through the ruts, don't complicate your mind. Flee from hate, mischief and jealousy. Don't bury your thoughts, put your vision to reality. Wake up and live!"

*-- Bob Marley
"Wake Up and Live"*

Much like a road's insignificance without cars, nothing makes a school more significant than the people. Whether it be the students, faculty, staff, or administration, everyone rides along on the same road, but eventually gets off at his own individual exit. Although the entrances may be similar, each exit varies from graduation to retirement. However, while we are on the same road, we hope to prepare students for their exit into the real world. Whatever we learn, we find people along the way, making ours a better journey through life.

The Forest

by Jennifer Blanchard

*We stepped into this forest first together,
Our tiny baby steps in little sneakers
Shuffling through the leaves of yellow paper.*

*We learned to walk, discovered our new path,
And on small hooks we hung our hopes and coats;
They grew with passing time, just as we did.*

*We stood together as three paths merged as one
And formed the bonds that stood the test of time
While love and long division held our minds.*

*We rose and fell as one, remained as one
Throughout the hardships and the lighter times,
Two hundred eighteen voices sung one song.*

And now –

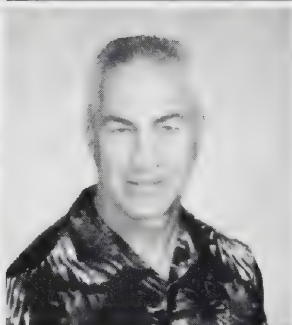

*We step out of this forest separately,
Blazing two hundred eighteen different paths
Into the vast unknown of times to come.*

We walk alone – yet we will sing together.

Athletics

Ludlow High School athletics has always upheld the reputation of having good sportsmanship, leadership, team unity, and spirit. While all teams possessed these qualities, the basketball, cross country, soccer, and track teams, along with the boys' volleyball, led the school in ability as they won their way into the Western Mass. championships. Although they did not win the final competitions, these teams showed that the road to victory is one that they are truly capable of following and will ride for years to come.

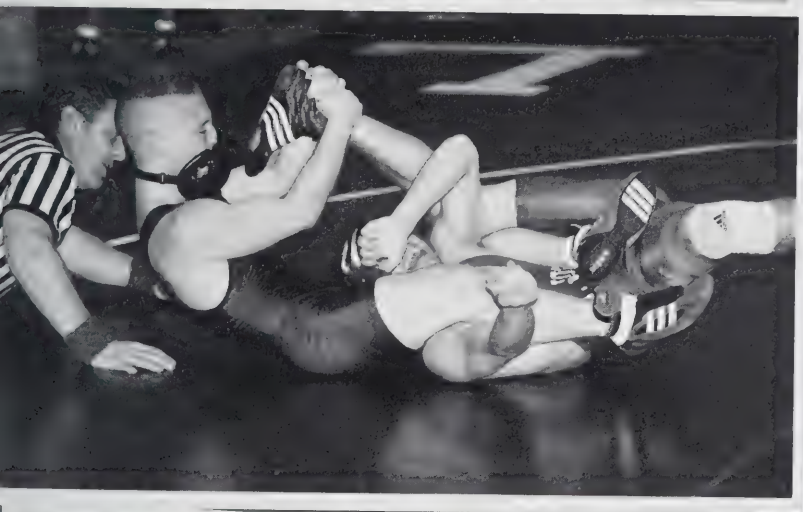

"Don't be discouraged by a failure. It can be a positive experience. Failure is, in a sense, the highway to success, inasmuch as every discovery of what is false leads us to seek earnestly after what is true."

-- John Keats

With victory fresh in the air, senior Justin Tunis walks off the field after watching his teammates successfully win the Thanksgiving Day football game against Palmer.

Senior Antone Motta wrestles against a member of St. John's team. Like Motta, Ludlow's wrestling team continued to put each win into a headlock, bringing the team to states.

Displaying their devotion to America, the boys' soccer team stands to pledge their allegiance to the flag and sing "The Star Spangled Banner." Much like their patriotism, the boys' loyalty to one another on the field helped lead them to consistent wins throughout the season.

1. Junior Tina Amaral heads the ball away from the net towards the Ludlow players in an excellent defensive play.

2. Freshman Catherine Pangiarella speeds away with the ball. "I felt like that was the game where everything came together and we all connected," said Pangiarella.

3. Senior Rachel Fontana takes a goal kick during the game against Westfield. "I think the season went well. We improved a lot and making the playoffs felt great. Going into 2015 we are definitely going to be better," said Fontana.

4. Senior Melissa DiCicco dribbles around the opposing players. "This was the game where we finally realized how fun and not stressful it will get a team together. It's anything, else," said DiCicco.

5. Senior Megan Williamson dribbles up field, evading two opposing players. "It was unfortunate that we lost in semi-finals. It was an honor to get that far and to know that we had potential to go all the way," said Williamson.

Girls' Soccer

They first met on the middle school soccer field in mid-August. Despite new faces, and a young team, the ladies showed their skill by starting their season off with a series of consecutive wins. Working together and staying focused, the team kept moving forward on its road to the semi-finals.

Although they didn't take the Western Mass. title, senior girls are happy that they made it to the semi-finals. Seniors Angela Wozniak and Rachel Fortwacker led the team through the highs and lows. "Each year brought some unique talent that contributed to the team which brought good team unity," said Wozniak.

Angie Wozniak

8. Senior Angie Wozniak blasts the ball before being overtaken by two opposing players. "The season didn't end how we wanted it to, but everyone definitely showed heart when it was truly needed... Things just didn't flow our way...", said Wozniak.

7. The girls' soccer team lines up for the playing of the National Anthem before the start of their game.

6. Sophomore Ali Pease moves upfield during her game against Wahconah. "We had an exciting season. It was great to make the tournament to bring back the Ludlow tradition. Next year should be just as exciting, but the seniors will surely be missed," said Pease.

Boys' Soccer

1. Senior Steve Crespo takes a throw-in to continue the game.

"The [Live it up],"

said Crespo.

Getting off on the first of the final. To make it happen, the boys' team knew its playing style was key. The final record of 13-1 had qualified them for the 2001 season, but the game they were getting ready for was the only game on their minds. Although they lost that day in Holyoke, the boys showed a feeling of accomplishment when they helped lead all their goals for the afternoon. Captain DJ Emanuele spoke for them all when he said, "Our play throughout the season was great, and we played above expectation. The final was a loss in the final to Holyoke. We lost to a team we should have severely beaten." The journey ended with a feeling of respect for the hard work that involved the day for the boys' team.

Nick Bruschi

Tony Rosa

2. The boys' team gathers before the game for some tips from the coach.

3. Seniors Tony Rosa and Jamie Alves pass to each other as they successfully prevent opposing players from gaining control of the ball. "It was a fun season with great times, a terrible end for a great group of guys," said Rosa.

7. Senior Jeff Dias fakes an opponent and gains possession of the ball. "We had a very successful season. The tournament brought a sad ending with a loss to a lower team," said Dias.

8. Senior Jay Magalhaes dribbles through two Holyoke players before taking a shot.

1. Senior Nick Pellegrini makes an impressive play, scoring the winning goal. "I could have scored many times, but I was just too tired," said Pellegrini.

2. Senior Nick Pellegrini makes an impressive play, scoring the winning goal. "The year was great, it brought a lot of friends together, but it was sad that it ended the way it did," said Pellegrini.

Senior Jamie Alves dives for the ball in an attempt to block an opposing player from turning. "We made it to the finals, but Lady Luck was just on Holyoke's side that day," said Alves.

Junior Nicole Potter finished first in her meet against Nicopee. "We had a very successful season this year. Everyone worked hard and it paid off," said Potter.

Junior Allison Penick and sophomore Katie Slepecki finish their race with Coach Amy Wallen with their team. "We had a great season. We had a great team. We were all working hard to win. We had a great season. We had a great team. We were all working hard to win." Coach Wallen

Sophomore Katie Slepecki finishes her race. "I really enjoy running cross country, because I get to meet a lot of new people," said Slepecki.

4. Junior Brittney Kawa continues her race in hopes of finishing first.

5. Sophomore Katie Slepecki finishes while senior Michael Graham records her time. "I really enjoy running cross country, because I get to meet a lot of new people," said Slepecki.

Boys' Cross Country

With only one loss in the season against powerhouse Amherst-Polham, the Lions' cross-country team had its best season in history, posting a 6-1 regular season record and winning the state championship for the first time ever.

At the Western Mass. championship, senior Jesse Regnier set a way for the Lions, winning the race in 16:37. However, the rest of the runners for Ludlow pulled through, placing third overall, behind only Amherst and Amherst-Polham. This gave the team a berth for the state championships, where they finished 14th overall as a team, with Regnier placing 5th individually.

1. Senior David Benoit runs to make a touch-down. "Our hard work off season showed during times we won," said Benoit.

With an incredible number of returning seniors, this year's LHS set out to accomplish an unprecedented goal in record LHS football history with an 11-1 record, the Lions finished. An impressive win league just Greenfield. The win was a stepping stone to the Division B championship game. Unfortunately, the boys lost against South Hadley, which overcame a crowd with local weather to defeat Middlebury.

Despite the loss, everyone ended the season with high spirits, moving forward next season for another chance to make a difference. "Football was great this year. We had a lot of talent with all seniors. We had a great season ending up 11-1," said senior Dan Leachman.

Golf

Suffering from a rough year with a 4-18 record, the golf team looked upon this season as one filled with rebuilding and learning lessons. The team was fairly young, with a majority of first-time members. Seniors led the team, creating an environment in which everyone had fun. In contrast to the season, however, junior Matt Smith did succeed making it to Western Mass. where he placed twentieth. This season carries the hopes of this young team, which is looking forward to getting more players placed at Western Mass. Coach Kurt Arnold said, "The students worked together as a team to improve their skills. We are building toward a positive future."

Girls' Basketball

This year's Lady Lions looked forward to a successful season led by their motto: "Give nothing less than everything you have!" During practices to Sunday morning, the girls were determined to win. In a season filled with tests, the ladies made the headlines with a victory over Unadilla. They continued as the ladies won seven of their last thirteen games, including a nine-game winning streak. The ladies qualified for the Western Mass. tournament with a 14-7 record, a level of achievement few had expected. Coach Timmy Kelle called the successful season a testament saying, "They believed in it and they believed in one another and because of this we overcame the unexpected."

5. Senior Megan Williamson dribbles down court on a break-away. "Our record of 14-7 is an outstanding accomplishment for the team, and I'm glad we ended like this my senior year," said Williamson.

Boys' Basketball

Continuing in the footsteps of Ludlow basketball, this year's Lions made it to the playoffs. The team worked well on the court together, counting on their success. While senior David Benoit was on the team, the Lions maintained an excellent 11-1 record, which is what earned them for the playoffs. Although losing to Westfield in the first round, many saw this as a successful season for the boys.

This season was also home to a number of personal accomplishments, the pinnacle being senior Mike Kane's scoring his 1000th career point, and becoming the all-time leading scorer in Ludlow history. "I believe this season was the best season of my high school career. I wish the season didn't end the way it did," said Kane.

1. Senior A.J. Motta has his hand raised after a victory over his opponent. "The season was a disappointment but the returning guys will bring back a better season. Coach Bly was awesome," said Motta.

After winning the Western Mass. championship for a consecutive year, the Lions set their hopes high for a seventh. The Lions also had a 77-point winning record in league competition with their most difficult Central High defeat on January 5th. Unfortunately the Lions fell for the first time since 1967, with the Golden Eagle coming out on top 45-27. However, the season was not over and the Lions still had the Western Mass. championship to look forward to. Once again, Chase and Ludlow's toughest opponent, and someone he thought it would be a close finish and a win. Chase and Ludlow were victorious, with the Lions still placing a very impressive record. The Central Barrows and junior John Aronowicz both won individual titles.

2. Freshman Jason Chenier has control over his opponent while applying a headlock.

Hockey

Even after losing the heart of its team at the end of last year, the Lions believed they had the team to compete for the Western championship. However, academic problems coupled with injuries proved to be the team's Achilles' heel.

After starting the season off with three straight losses, Lions rebounded nicely with a win, but never could string together more than two at any point in the season. However, towards the end of season, with all eligible players assembled as a team, the Lions began to mold themselves into a working unit, winning three out of four in February. "Regardless, the team could never quite mesh, and to make the playoffs. Our early season losses put us in a hole that made it impossible for us to make the playoffs," said Rich Cowan.

With the largest team in recent history, and many first timers, this year's Lions set out to have fun on the slopes. Enjoying the rides up, and laughing at each other's falls, the team really felt a sense of community. However, the team wasn't just all fun. This year's team had excellent talent, with both boys and girls placing in the top ten in division. For the girls, senior Erin Mislak placed second, junior Alli Prokop placed seventh, and senior Rachel Fossaca and sophomore Brooke LaBoque both placed tenth. Leading the boys, senior Nick Bruschi and sophomore Mike Adam both placed tenth. The season ended with the PIVAC individuals held at Berkshire East where skiers spent the entire day skiing, racing, and enjoying themselves.

Cheerleading

"Can you hear those Lion roars?" This year the cheerleaders began their season in late August in the Pennsylvania Poconos at a fall camp. The squad returned to Ludlow only the day before school had and immediately reviewed cheers for the upcoming football season. During the fall the varsity and JV squads multitasked, both serving for competition and encouraging the football team. In mid-September, the varsity squad succeeded at the fall regional competition, placing second and went on to the state competition in Lowell.

As basketball season began, the cheerleading squads continued perfect their routines for winter competition. After months of practice and hard work, the squads were able to "show their stuff" at local competitions. For the first time ever, the varsity squad took home a plaque trophy. Junior Monique Goodrow said, "This season was really eventful with a new coach and group of girls coming in, but overall I feel the season was a successful one."

1. Senior Kaitlin O'Donnell throws the ball towards home plate. "Although we weren't too successful this year, it was still fun because we all worked together and we got along well," said O'Donnell.

Although the girls' softball team's season began with a loss, the girls never gave up their fight and continued to show in leadership abilities and teamwork. Their first win came four games into the season, fought with a score of 7-3. A few games later, the girls had their season's first win, this time against Longmeadow, with a score of 10-0.

The first loss of the season's top player, Jenny McCarthy, took playing, which hindered the overall ability of the team. Further setbacks of four captains, each having broken their softball while years past, the team stayed as one through a hard season, and the team, though still managed to have a good time.

Baseball

Despite a record of losses, this year's Lions were proud to make it to the playoffs. They were disappointed by their record, but happy by their spirit. Coach Mr. Martin Fanning's approach was providing variety, not just in the lineup, but in the players. The team was a good mix of underclassmen and varsity players, which, with teamwork, fought their way through a rough season. The team did not win this season, but both good and bad. However, as noted by Coach Fanning, this season's team never combines the two in any game. "I have confidence in the way they play. They need confidence in themselves," said Fanning, "and once they'll keep the victories coming." This season saw no such thing, however, the Lions were happy with the way that the team played and came together.

7. Senior Kristen Goncalves is elated after her victory over Holyoke. "The tennis team did very well this year. We really came together as a team and played well together. It's a shame we lost to Longmeadow in the quarterfinals," said Goncalves.

6. Senior Jocelyn Pereira prepares to return the ball to her opponent. "I think we had a really great season this year. I like tennis because it's a team sport. Everyone thinks it's an individual sport, but when you have a bad day, your team can help you," she said.

Girls' Tennis

This year's girls tennis team showed not only dedication and determination, but also a will to win that can't be defeated. During two of their matches during the regular season, the girls showed a remarkable strength both as individuals and as a team. However, a loss in the quarterfinals ended in a disappointing way for Longmeadow's season.

Despite a disappointing loss in the quarterfinal round to Longmeadow, the girls played a season of which they should be very proud. Coach John Davis said the challenge of working with a senior team made the girls' love, passion, and experience all of the girls learn. After four years of playing together, the girls will take away many memories that they have made both on and off court. Their talent will be difficult to replace in coming years.

5. Senior Vanessa Leal powerfully hits the ball back over the net. "It was fun playing these last four years and I got to know a lot of different people whom I normally wouldn't see during school. I wish the team the best of luck next year," said Leal.

1. Junior Benjamin Gagne practices his returns on the LHS courts. "I had fun because the season wasn't about winning; it was about learning more about the game and having fun," said Gagne.

2. Senior Michael Gavoni prepares to return the ball while Coach Rea watches.

3. Senior Joshua Carpenter gets in position to hit a forehand winner during a recent match at LHS. "The team had many different challenges this year, but we had the same optimism throughout the season," said Carpenter.

4. Sophomore Jaymie Kapinos practices one day after school. "We showed a lot of positive attitude and I can't wait to see what happens next season," said Kapinos.

5. Senior Michael Gavoni returns the ball with a forehand player, played first singles and was one of only two seniors

Boys' Tennis

Failing to attract many newcomers, this year's tennis team had another rough season. With only one returning senior, the Lions were in trouble from the start. Coached by newcomer Mr. Christopher Rea, this season brought a fresh, new attitude. However, that was insufficient to combat a lack of veteran players.

The Lions did enjoy themselves, however, with almost every player planning on returning next season. "Despite our challenges this season, this group of guys faced every match with fiery enthusiasm and a strong competitive attitude. We are going through a rebuilding period right now, and I am really excited to watch all of these players improve their game. I know our record will improve as well," said Rea, who is looking optimistically towards next season. All in all, this season proved to be a learning experience for the Lions, however they stuck to it through sheer enjoyment of the sport.

8. Sophomore Joseph Kapinos practices his serve. "Our season was better than the last season, and we're hoping to improve even more next season," said Kapinos.

9. Gavoni, a first-year tennis player, is a member of the team.

7. Practicing for their singles matches, sophomores Joseph and Jayme Kapinos play against friends after school.

6. Senior Joshua Carpenter readies himself to return the ball during a close match against Amherst.

Girls' Track

1. Seniors Leah Letorneau and Nicole Silva lead a pack of Ludlow runners in the one mile. "My favorite aspect of track is the family atmosphere. We're very supportive of each other, and that's one reason I kept doing it. It's also why we had so much fun," said Letourneau.

With the largest team in teams, hitting the year's Lily League runner for their second league title. Get ready by East Longmeadow, this year's ladies went on the ground at Western Mass. where the one mile was run. Along with most of the girls, the girls also took part in the Amherst-Pittsford, which was a surprise to both sides and Amherst.

"We were underdogs in a more challenging league, and the girls ran hard to win the first mile of our first meet," said head coach by Brian Wilson. Looking back at this year the girls had a lot of fun despite weekly workouts to which they drew over a successful season. So, skilled freshmen added to the girls of this year's team by showing promise for future wins.

2. Sophomore Nina Perez, junior Rachel Spirito, and freshman Kertasea Booth sprint during their race. "I ran fast, but not as fast as Tina [Amaral]. But seriously, I had a lot of fun, and we did well, considering we moved up a league," said Spirito.

3. Senior Shellane Natario runs down the lane preparing to pole vault. "I enjoyed track because of the new girls I met pole vaulting," said Natario.

8. Junior Tina Amaral competes in the long jump.

9. Freshman Carrie Rabitche makes it over the pole in high jump. "This year's track was fun. I enjoyed it a great deal. We had a great season," said Rabitche.

10. Freshman Donna Douglas jumps the hurdle. "I was the only one who was my freshman year, and I was swimming," said Douglas.

Junior Jessica Szlosek jumps over the 100 meter hurdles. "Our hurdling team was amazing. We had a lot of fun and worked well together," said Szlosek.

1. Junior Clarence Kauila clears the bar in the high jump. "Track is fun, no doubt about it. If you've got a problem, solve it," said Kauila.

2. Junior Ross Dominique takes the lead for Ludlow in the 110 meter high hurdles. "This season was a very successful one, in which I achieved my best times in hurdles and pole vault," said Dominique.

3. Junior Derek Duchesne spins as he throws the discus. "Overall, the season went very well. As a team, we worked really hard and as most people know, we did really well. We have a lot of juniors coming back next year, so hopefully we'll do even better," said Duchesne.

Boys' Track

The Lions added a third patch to their banner this year. They won their league yet again. With a record number of 2005 season, the Lions had remarkable team unity, coupled with dedication which led them to success.

With a deep team of 30 boys qualifying for Western Mass the Lions finished in 8th place. It was the highest Ludlow has placed, a significant improvement over last season's 9th place. Ludlow had six Lions making it to states, where senior Jesse Reg qualified for the New England championships in the two mile. "The 2005 track and field team was the largest in school history. With outstanding returning athletes, the team had many new recruits and help Ludlow win its third straight league title. "The coach and captains brought an incredible work ethic to the team and the hard work paid off with another perfect season record," said Head Coach Michael Gervin.

Junior Paul Momnie leads a pack of Ludlow runners the one mile. "People think that track isn't a team sport, but it is. Without your teammates there to push you to work harder, you've got no chance," said Momnie.

7. Junior Mike Martin prepares to throw the javelin. "Everyone worked a lot harder this year. As kids, we just learned into our own hands to improve," said Martin.

6. Sophomore Nick Costanzo runs ahead of junior Mark Swain during the opposing time. "I can't think back, leave it all in the track and just go to reveal your best, go to the black," said Costanzo.

6.

4. Junior Dan Stevens lands his awesome long jump.

5. Senior Nick Moutinho launches himself over the bar in pole vault. "I enjoyed track, because pole vaulting is really fun. As a team we came together and defeated all of our competition," said Moutinho.

1. Senior David Ledoux begins a play with a powerful serve. "I think overall we did better than any coach that I will ever have. We were really successful, and we didn't get many involved in our games. For a first time, the original came together and supported us through everything," said Ledoux.

2. Junior David Ledoux prepares to bump the ball. "It was a good year, but I wish I could have done differently," said Ledoux.

8. Junior Kyle Filipe, returns to the floor after spiking ball. "It was the best season, and the best team ever in my mind. It didn't turn out the way we wanted it, but it was still great," said Filipe.

3. Senior Nick Sanchez returns the ball.

4. Senior Jay Hangasky spikes the ball over the net. "We had a great year, but unfortunately we lost against Minnechaug in the Western Mass. finals for the second time," said Hangasky.

7. The Lions gather during a game, for a pep talk from coach Fred Glanville.

6. Sophomore Ryan Nolan saves the ball with a drive to the floor. "I think we had a good year, even though we didn't win Western Mass.," said Nolan.

Boys' Volleyball

This year's Lions took home another league title. Finishing the season 1B-2, the Lions were the Western Mass. champions at large. With strong wins against Belchertown and Westfield, the team fell short against a dominant Minnechaug team. With a few wins of 20-3, this season's Lions are proud of their accomplishments.

This season's success is owed to the dedication and hard work of members who met before the season for 40/40 practice sessions and Girls Club. Their efforts, combined with a successful tournament, guided the Lions to their league title. "It was a very good season. We finished with the best record in UHS, won 1B-2. Our Western Mass. was disappointing," said Jim Proxer.

5. Junior Michael Ryan sets the ball. "Although the season didn't end up the way we expected it to, I think the team did well as a whole," said Ryan.

Highlights of '05

1. Sophomore Ronald Tetreault's hand is raised after a victory.
2. The wrestling team placed second in the state championships, and junior John Archambeau won an individual title at the Western Mass. finals for the Lions.

3. The boys' cross country team starts a race. 4. For the first time in school history, the team made the state championships, led by senior captain Jesse Regnier, who finished in 5th place at the state meet.

5. Freshman Catherine Pangiarella protects the ball from a defender. 6. The girls' basketball team made the playoffs, led by the outstanding play of senior Megan Williamson, who graduated as the all-time female leading scorer at LHS.

7. Senior Kyle Lewis follows the standard of hard play set by the year's boys' soccer team which made it all the way to the Western Mass. finals. 8. All-state senior Nick Pellegrini makes an excellent save.

Freshman Nicole Martins passes the ball to keep it away from incoming defender. 14. All-state senior Rachel Fonseca helped the girls' soccer team to an impressive 7-6-3 regular season record, before bowing out in the Western Mass. semifinals.

Senior Chris D'Angelo takes charge and runs the offense during the game. With a very strong 14-5 record, the Lions made it to Division 1 tournament. 16. Senior Mike Kane became the school's all-time leading scorer this year, passing former LHS star Jim Hickey.

9. The cheerleading team won its first competition this season, making it the best yet. 10. Senior Meghan Hill is held by junior Leigh-Ann Malke as they cheer on the boys one night. The two along with senior Katelyn Collette led the team, while a strong core of returnees helped to ensure victory.

11. Senior #69 Craig Crowther anchored the defense on the football team this year. 12. Thanks to contributions from its seniors, including #62 Dwight Manganaro, the Lions came within one game of reaching the Super Bowl.

Seniors Karyna Machado, Isabel Barroso, and Kristina Merced get silly on the dance floor at the annual Homecoming dance. "Homecoming was wicked fun. It gave me a chance to hang out with everybody, but the best part of the night was the after-party," said Merced.

Craig Crowther who played Piney in the newly-formed drama club's play, "A Bad Year for Tomatoes," spans Marita Sarad's character, Myra Marlowe (as well as her "crazy sister," Sadie). Despite the lack of attendance, the play, directed by Samantha Burns, was a success.

Senior Show participants show how they can ride it all night long to "Life Is a Highway." Seniors worked very hard, constantly rehearsing in hopes of entertaining friends and family of all ages. Ultimately, the hard work and dedication paid off on March 11th and 12th, with two successful shows.

Events

Just as exits on a highway come one after another, this school year had event after event, helping to make the school year go by much quicker. With a high volume of school spirit, participation was at an all time high. From class trips to dances to various schoolwide functions, students attended these events in hopes of having a fun night with friends, while making cherished memories to look back upon. These events have collectively helped to form a stronger bond between classmates and have shaped our years spent at Ludlow High School. Accordingly, it is these events that have helped to characterize and define each class.

Class: Freshmen (Class of 2008)

Location: Boston, Massachusetts

Date: Friday, November 12, 2004

This year, the freshman class took its very first field trip together to Boston, Massachusetts. At the first destination, the New England Aquarium, students were able to interact with the fascinating sea creatures that were offered by the museum. After observing the animals, students made their way to the second destination, an IMAX theatre to watch "Sharks 3-D." IMAX theatres, found all over the world, are complete with digital surround sound and known for giving audiences clarity and high definition images, making "pictures so real you want to touch them." At the movie's conclusion, students walked over to the Quincy Market, where they had the rest of the day to themselves to eat, shop, and hang out with friends.

1. Corey O'Sullivan and Adam Forest show their love for a statue in Boston's Quincy Market.

2. Their new souvenir masks bring out the animals in Mike Rufo and Colin Vigneault.

3. Penguins were a hit with the students who went the trip.

Class: Sophomores (Class of 2007)

Location: Newport, Rhode Island

Date: Friday, November 12, 2004

Newport, Rhode Island, known for its exquisite mansions, found itself with Ludlow High School's sophomore class on Friday, November 12. Architecturally distinguishable and unique in all senses, the Newport mansions are and have been a popular tourist site for some time. However, students had a challenging time figuring out how to use the newly automated guided tours. As a result, students made their own tours, using their imagination. Despite the complicated technology and the rainy weather, students made the best of the situation by having fun with friends throughout the trip. Surprisingly though, the sophomore class did not take pictures of one another, as a result, leaving the yearbook only pictures of mansions.

1. The Vanderbilts' Breakers is one of grandest homes located in Newport.

2. Marble House is considered the mansion that changed Newport from a place of summer cottages to cover palace-like manors.

3. Rosecliff's beautiful garden is modeled after that of Versailles in France.

The city lights brighten up days of tourists, even when raining.

Chris Venne, Marc Coel and Matt Dias enthusiastically look at a Hard Rock Cafe menu.

Kate Dolan and Marita had take a break from walking around the Museum in New York City.

Class: Juniors (Class of 2006)

Location: New York, New York

Date: Friday, November 12, 2004

The juniors had a difficult time planning their field trip, but even with the odds against them, they came up with a plan that worked for everyone. When the executive board found out that the original museum the class had intended to see was overbooked, its tour and admission to the Metropolitan Museum of Art were cancelled. Instead, juniors viewed and toured the Museum of New York City, learning the history behind the Big Apple. After leaving the museum, the juniors walked over to the Hard Rock Cafe, where they ate lunch and warmed up over cups of hot chocolate. Sick of walking in the rain and cold weather, the junior class headed back to Ludlow, ready to go back to the comforts of home.

1. Mike DeChellis sits next to a wax figure of daytime show host Sharon Osbourne.

2. Kristin Kwajewski and Jessica Ratkiewicz show J.Lo how to strike a pose.

3. Cassie Shields and Lauren O'Neil don't let the idea of Ozzy Osbourne biting off a bat's head, keep them from sitting next to him.

Class: Seniors (Class of 2005)

Location: New York, New York

Date: Friday, November 12, 2004

Seniors stepped into a world of wax on November 12, when they visited the famous Madame Tousseaud's Wax Museum in New York City. Among the favorite wax figures were the Jennifer Lopez statue, whose cheeks blushed, and the Michael Jackson statue, who had a shrine-like tribute near his wax representation. With over 200 of the world's top celebrities made out of wax, every student was bound to have a favorite and be satisfied. Although there was a lack of attendance due to soccer semi-finals and dreadful weather, students made the best of the day by bonding with fellow classmates and friends.

1. Simone Jung Kang and Seave Orrego were crowned Homecoming queen and king for their great school spirit and positive attitudes.

2. Seniors Vin Pravoac and Mike Freitas enjoy themselves while dancing with the decorative wires.

3. Senior Julie Bamber makes a "love wild night" by setting up the dance floor.

One Wild Night

Homecoming 2004

On November 19th, 408 students and alumni gathered in the LHS cafeteria to experience "One Wild Night," complete with jungle-themed decorations, refreshments, and music provided by DJ Sergio André. The annual dance put on by The Cub was originally scheduled from 7:00-10:30 in the evening. But after a group of students began tearing down the zebra-striped and orange-spotted balloon chains that adorned the ceiling, in addition to the white lights that encircled the chains, the evening was cut short by half an hour. As a result, the evening did indeed become a "wild night." However, despite the minor disturbance, attendees enjoyed themselves creating a memorable evening for all.

4. Natalie Valdez and Meaghan Pires shimmy in the conga line, along with fellow dance-goers, past the tiki hut.

5. Seniors Stacy Faulha and Stacy Soares enjoy the ambiance of the evening.

6. Poorly behaved individuals destroyed the beautiful decorations, causing the evening to come to an early end. Balloon chains and lights were torn down, creating a hazardous situation, specifically for the female population that took off their shoes during the evening.

7. Freshmen Steph Gomes, Jess Chaves, Yvonne Forget, LaRae Mercier and Heather Barrus enjoy a night of fun and dancing at their first homecoming.

Class Banquets

This year's freshman/sophomore banquet entitled "South of the Border," was based around a Mexican theme. Held on Friday, December 10, over 100 students attended the banquet at the Gremio-Lusitano Portuguese Club in Ludlow, making it a success. The food, Mexican of course, was catered by Casa de Nana. After the appetites of attendees ceased, freshmen and sophomores danced the night away with music provided by a local DJ group known as the International Disk Jockeys. The night came to a close at 10:30 p.m., but luckily, the students are underclassmen, meaning they can look forward to future class banquets.

e: Friday, March 4, 2005

e: 6:00 p.m. - 10:30 p.m.

On March 4, the junior and senior classes came together for their annual banquet. This year's banquet, "Big Money," put a fun twist on a popular trend among LHS students — poker. The banquet hall was decorated according to the theme with cards, dice, and poker chips. Similar to previous banquets, Alcoa catered with a variety of popular food, including chicken, pasta, fish, and rice.

The night was filled with dancing to the sounds of DJ Reckon Eyez, alumnus Greg Gaudreau. In addition, non-dancers conveniently had cards to play with, making the night fun for all. Although many juniors left the banquet early, seniors enjoyed one of their last dances by staying until the very end. The night concluded with the familiar sound of class advisor Mr. Brian Walsh beat boxing.

Fright Night

Traditionally, the junior class hosts a dance as means of raising money for the class treasury. This year, the Class of 2006 encouraged students to dress up for Halloween as they had when they were younger, by hosting a costumed dance. On Friday, October 22, after extending ticket sales multiple times at $8 a ticket, over 200 students danced the night away in Halloween costumes varying from humorous to scary to simply original. With this in mind, the faculty voted on the scariest, funniest, and most original costumes towards the end of the night. The recipients of these awards were sophomore Jayne Kepinos as Hannibal Lecter, junior David Almeida as a Swiss Miss, and junior Marcos Carvalho as a Royal Flush.

1. Seniors Matt Chaves, Pat Shaheen, Keith Bradway, and Carolyn Bourdeau anxiously wait for another song to start while in the middle of the dance floor.

5. Milked out from dancing freshmen Keith Desilets, Justin Ferreira, Justin Dias, and Matt Lively, relay with the herd.

2. Swiss Miss Dave Almeida and Dave Man Dave Lafoux were indeed an odd couple, but they found each other to be lively nonetheless.

E, Chris Venne, quite possibly rapper Lil' Jon's long lost twin, awaits to get "brunk" on the dance floor. "Yeahhhhhhhhhh!"

3. Ironically, seniors Shelly Nataria and Stacy Dally took up a lot of space during "Fright Night" with their air-blown costumes.

7 Dressed up as a devil but smiling quite angelically, Jessica Rathkiewicz seems to find Angel Leanne Salvador tolerable for the evening.

4. Straight out of jail, lifestyle guru Martha Stewart, also known as Cindy Archambeau, finds herself getting a mug shot while entering the dance.

6. Class of 2008 vice president Julia Sadow-sky announces the winners of the costume awards.

These Are the Moments

Prom 2005

As Friday, May 6, rolled around, over four hundred students and faculty crowded the Anita Room at Chez Josef in Agawam to enjoy a chic evening filled with a wide variety of music provided by Hard at Play along with a remarkable dinner of choice. The evening began at 5:30 p.m. when students mingled with one another before being served prime rib, chicken Marsala, or a vegetarian platter, depending on which one they preferred. After dinner, festivities began on the dance floor as the DJs passed out glow sticks, set up light-up platforms for dancing, and released fog into the air. Although the dance floor was overcrowded, everyone still managed to make the night a memorable one. Before the night came to a close, seniors Nicholas Correia and Stephanie Lopes were crowned prom king and queen; juniors Justin Martins and Alyssa Severyn were also crowned as prom prince and princess. At 11:00 p.m. Prom 2005 "These Are the Moments" came to a close, ending a memorable night for all.

4. Juniors Alyssa Severyn, Amanda Leone, and Steph Burek clearly do not need a lit up platform, for their impressive dance skills lit up the dance floor.

5. A female prom goer circles the candidates she finds deserving of the titles, prom king and queen. Her choices ultimately found themselves wearing the crowns at the end of the evening.

6. The members of the boys track and field team proudly get together with Coach Rebecca Gauvin for a picture to remember their time together.

7. Prom Princess Alyssa Severyn and Prince Justin Martins share a royal moment, after being crowned.

6. Junior Clarence Kaulha and sophomore Jake Stokowski perform a duet together with a ukulele and guitar.

7. Junior Mika Ryan rides around on his unicycle while sophomore Eric Drenniak juggles his heart out.

1. Coaches Jan Preide, Zach Bepko, Ricky Tassanor, Daniel Popp, and Jan Plo discuss off-the-line jump & poke, which the players performed with accuracy. Matt Kiehlase threw the ball at the game.

2. Coach's Josh Kempster and Matt Chavis make use of their portable camera to capture a moment in the game. The "Hoping" to "Hoping" of the game is a moment in the game.

3. Coach's Allen DeSousa and Nick Pellegoni are in the game, which is a moment in the game.

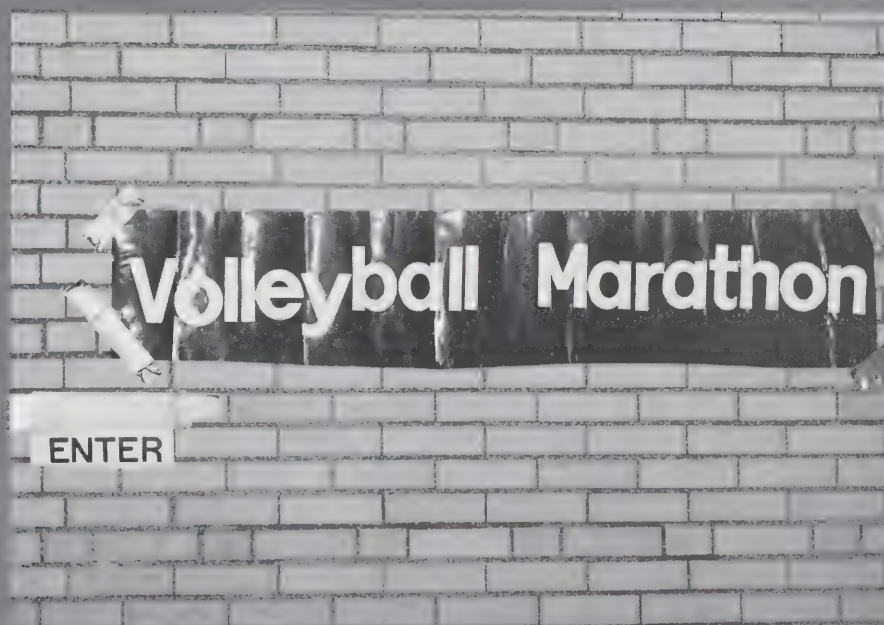

4. Senior Peter Porra prepares to bump the ball back to the opposing team. This year's Volleyball-a-Thon was the third ever attended by Porra. "It's fun and entertaining. [The Volleyball-a-Thon] provides a great social atmosphere and it's always a pleasure to go."

5. Seniors Mike Bauchie, George Blake, Dan Costa, Tom Lopata, Nick Moutinho, and Jay Ferreira, sit around and play video games while waiting for their next volleyball match. The team played video games throughout the night and into the early hours of the morning.

6. Juniors Ahmed Abdullah and Chris Venne add a unique twist to their volleyball match, while serving for the "Dream Team." Teammates Chris Benoit and Liz Martins watch with glee, as they see Ahmed serve the ball.

The Volleyball-a-Thon, held on the March 18 and 19, is a fundraising event held and organized by the Ludlow High School student council to establish scholarships for seniors. It's a night where friends gather and stay up for hours playing numerous volleyball games. By the wee hours of the morning, many students are ready to go home, but regardless, the night is filled with fun and food. Local businesses help to put on this annual success, and with the hard work of select individuals, the night is enjoyable for all.

This year, a team made up of actual volleyball players, known as "The Game" won the Volleyball-a-Thon, defeating each team it faced. "The Game," a tight-knit team with spirit and competitive disposition, went by the motto "Don't hate the player, hate the game." Junior David Kang, a member of the team said, "We were able to win this year's volleyball marathon by working as a team. It was nice winning, but we also had a good time just playing together."

Life Is a Highway Senior Show 2005

Gathering together on March 11 and 12, the senior class sang, danced, and laughed its way through the weekend at the annual senior show, "Life Is a Highway." With a mix of humor and talent, the senior show found itself being long remembered after the weekend. Skits such as "Cowbell," "Guys Night Out," and "Men, I Feel Like a Woman," as well as the talents of seniors, such as Alex Casimiro playing the snare drum and Lori Milner playing Beethoven's "Pathetique Sonata," stuck out in the minds of the audience as being truly unique. The show concluded itself with the senior class surrounding the auditorium to sing "Life Is a Highway," a song that came to represent the Class of 2005. As a result of the show's success, the event raised over $16,000 under the direction of Ms. Jennifer Bauduccio and Mrs. Suzanne Kelley.

Senior Mystery Trip

Like guessing until the very day, the senior class found the mystery trip to be exactly that: a mystery. Upon arrival at Squire's Kingdom in Farmington, Connecticut, students did not know what to expect on Tuesday, May 31, until they saw the fluorescent yellow tubes waiting for them. Tubing on the scenic Farmington River allowed for picturesque scenery and time to bond with fellow classmates. Despite the weather and the stresses of the week, the seniors made the best of the situation, leaving with smiles on their faces, especially after a change of clothes to the next secret location.

After tubing, the seniors were once again left puzzled as to where the trip would go. Ultimately, the seniors found themselves in Norwalk, Connecticut, in front of a baseball field where the Norwalk Navigators were playing against the New Britain Rock Cats. With a barbecue-style dinner, seniors enjoyed themselves while watching a minor league baseball game and hanging out with fellow classmates.

Class Night 2005

On June 1, the Class of 2005 assembled in the LHS auditorium as a sea of maroon and white, making its first appearance in caps and gowns. The night was one of recognition for students who had excelled in academics, athletics, and extra-curricular activities throughout their years of high school as over 75 scholarships and awards were given throughout the evening, financially helping students who wished to further their education. Along with the award presentations, class president Jung Kang and salutatorian Jennifer Blanchard addressed the audience, giving both congratulatory words and encouragement to their fellow classmates. Students were also given the opportunity to present their parents with letters thanking them for their help and support. The evening concluded with a slide show presentation of baby and senior pictures.

Senior Farewell an old tradition held by Lowell High School, is a symbolic ceremony hosted by the senior class, marking the final goodbye to the soon-to-be graduates. This year Senior Farewell took place on Thursday, June 2, in front of the whole school body. With the advancement of technology, underclassmen who could not come to school in the traditions, had the ability to watch it in the cafeteria. Complete with slideshows of youth and high school memories, a song dedicating the senior class, a beautiful candle lighting ceremony, and the passing of the torch from one class president to another. Senior Farewell was an emotional event for many, but a happy way to say goodbye.

Graduation

On Friday, June 3, families, friends, and soon-to-be graduates gathered at the University of Massachusetts (Amherst) Mullins Center, for what is said to be one of the best graduation ceremonies in all of Western Massachusetts. Seniors assembled together, awaiting to achieve one of the greatest milestones of their lives. Walking in together to "Pomp and Circumstance" played by the symphony band under the direction of Mr. Cynthia Koch, the Class of 2005 looked breathtaking in maroon and white caps and gowns. The concert choir then performed "Fly Free" by Don Basing with senior members singing with the choir for the last time.

Valictorian Brittany Hobert gave an inspiring farewell address telling classmates to seize the day for "Although we do not know where the road will take us, we know that we take with us our memories and friendships, which have defined us through the years. Our memories, just as a shadow reflects our true contour, reflect the people we will become and the lives we will lead."

After the heartfelt message, the symphony band played once again, but this time the melodic sounds of Andrew Lloyd Webber from "The Phantom of the Opera."

Class vice-president Brian Ridley gave a unique graduation message, comparing high school to jail. "Early in the summer of 2001, 228 teenagers were charged with one of the biggest felonies known to man: we all graduated from (jail) school. Our punishment was a four-year sentence to the big house, otherwise known as Ludlow Senior High School."

Following Flatley's speech, Mr. Gordon Smith presented 14 awards to students who excelled in different areas, including athletics and academic achievements. Superintendent Dr. John Welch then gave a few words of encouragement telling the graduating class members continuously to challenge themselves. He presented the class of 2005 to school committee chairperson, Mr. Christopher Chartrand, who then brought the ceremony to its most important part, the awarding of diplomas.

208 students were awarded diplomas on stage and all had their time to shine. After all diplomas were awarded, vice-president Brian Flatley led the turning of the tassels, a symbolic gesture of graduating from high school.

The concert choir then sang the Alma Mater with new graduates joining their predecessors in standing. When the solemn ceremony was done, the celebration on stage began with silly string, streamers, confetti, and just about anything else decorative that could be thrown in the air. After celebrating their great achievement, the class of 2005 walked off stage, prepared for the world and whatever it had to offer.

Our Dearest Vanessa,

The sun has shined ever so very bright on our lives since the day you were born. Throughout these short few years and a few challenges, we have watched you set your own goals and as always, you matched and surpassed them, setting new standards for yourself.

As you have been true to yourself in pursuit of your dreams, you have earned this moment and the honor to be very proud of your accomplishments.

As you set out on a new journey as a college student, your dreams will become even closer to reality. Follow your heart and reach for your dreams, never giving up. And remember, your mom and dad are always there to support you with our love for the rest of your life.

You have been, and always will be, the pride and joy of our lives. We watch and admire you beyond describable words. We are so proud of you. Congratulations and good luck!

Life Is a Highway

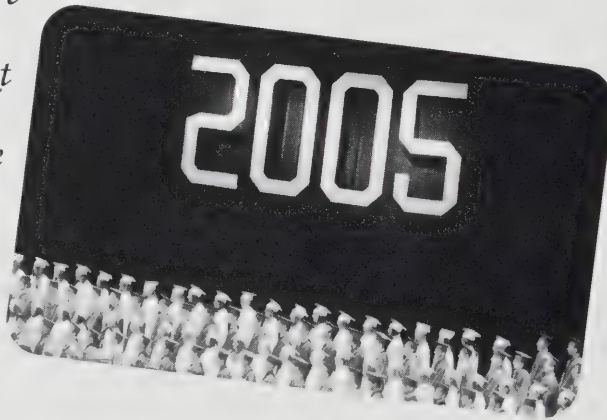

"Tell 'em we're survivors..."

On the road of life and high school, each individual has his share of bumps and obstacles. However, through the good and the bad, 208 students of the Class of 2005 found their destination on June 3, 2005. As these individuals came off the stage at the University of Massachusetts' Mullins Center, they found themselves on the road known as "the future."

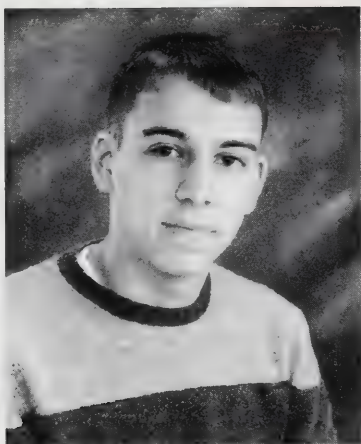

Although many are still unsure of their next destination, with the knowledge, understanding, and experiences derived from high school, they have the tools to overcome whatever the road may have in store. As they journey on new roads, one thing will remain sound: friendships and cherished memories. With their eyes set on the future, these students will undoubtedly make a positive difference in the world.

Best of luck, Class of 2005. May your future lives be everything you wished them to be. After all, you've earned it.

Truthfully speaking, I never imagined how much hard work, dedication, and time this yearbook would take. I joined the yearbook organization my sophomore year thinking it was like almost any other club. You just come in for an hour or two, and then you go home. The difference with the yearbook was that instead of coming in for an hour or two, it was more like an hour or four, or five, or six, or heck— even the whole night! Yearbook has provided me with a few things, including the ability to say, I think I'm one of the select few who have never been locked in the school. Moreover, it has given me long-lasting memories with a staff, who kept me sane when the long hours in room C102 were getting to my head. It has also allowed me to get to know this great group of individuals who know how to work hard and have a good time as well.

As a result, I'd personally like to thank these individuals. I realize that this isn't the Oscars or Grammys, but without these people, this yearbook could not have come together. First and foremost, I'd like to recognize Mrs. Suzanne Kelley. I'm almost positive that this school has become her second home, for she spends hours upon hours here. I don't know any other faculty member who would be so dedicated to such a time-consuming organization. Secondly, I'd like to thank Alex Jorge who acted as both the business manager and co-athletics editor. I suppose it's not easy to get along with someone who's in the running to rule the world against you, but despite our minor conflicts, we've both made it out alive without killing one another. Another person I'd like to thank is Michael Graham. Graham worked with Alex and me all throughout the year. We became better friends, including my becoming his love life consultant. (GIRLS! HE'S A GREAT GUY!) Haha. But in all seriousness, the guys were great to work with and I couldn't have asked for a better business manager or co-athletics editor.

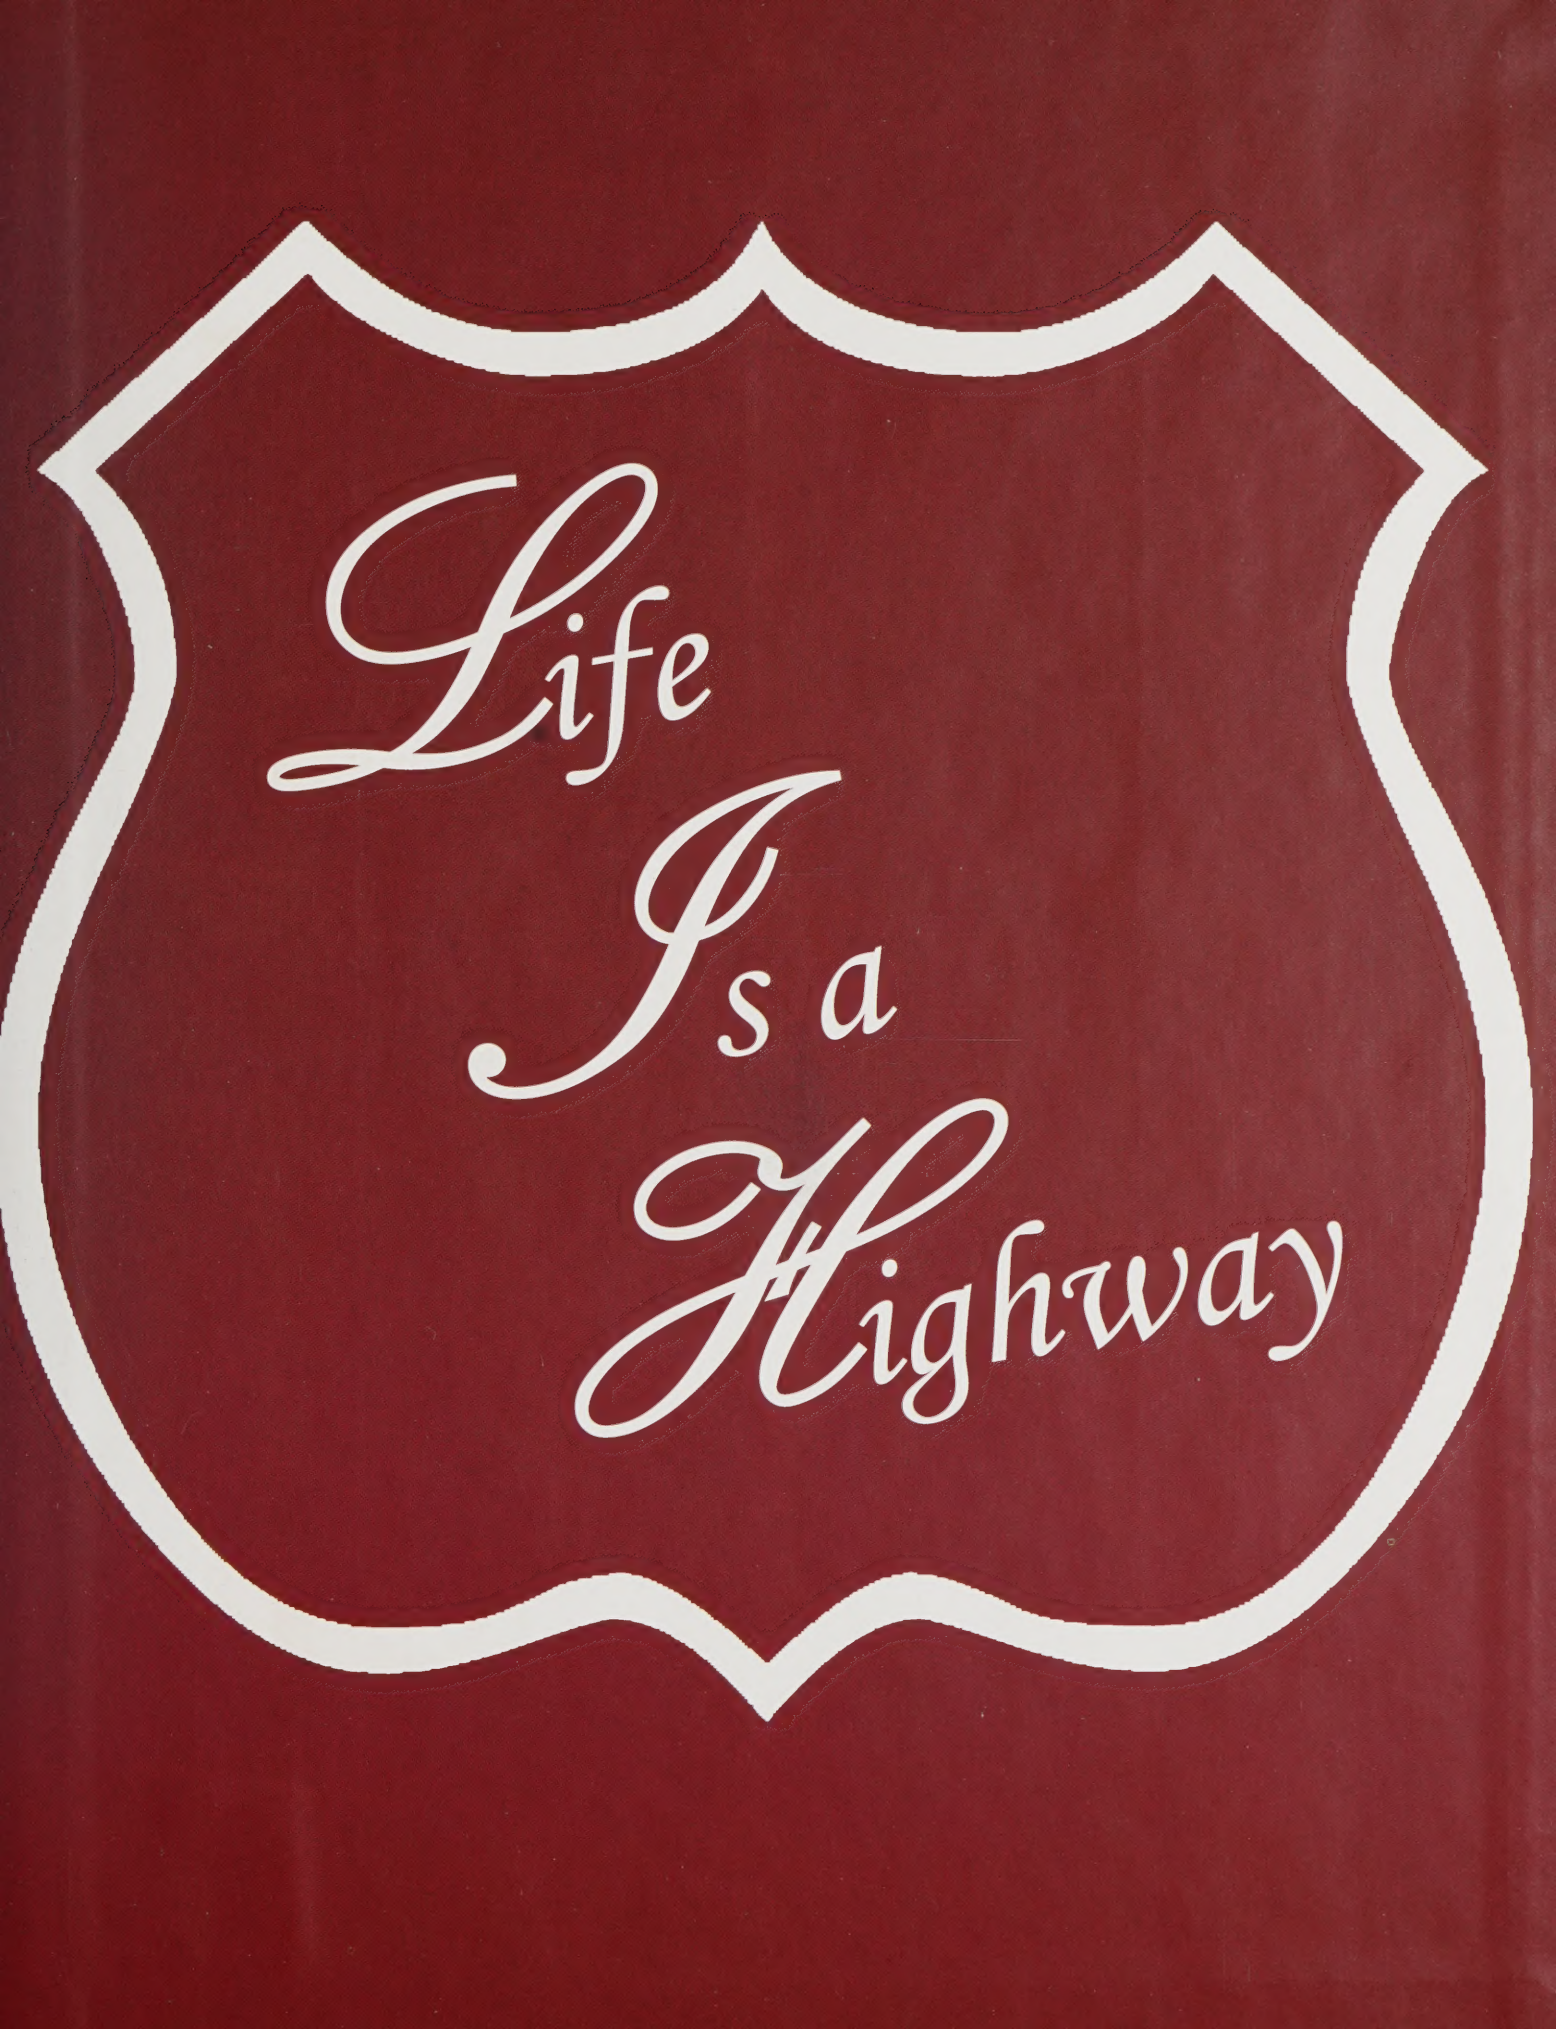

Other staff members I'd like to thank include Leigh-Ann Malke, Katelyn Dolan, Mia Santos, Ashley Pestana, and Nicholas Sanchez. Ron Antonucci and Walt Steinmetz of Steinmetz Photography deserve my thanks as well. Every one of these people was great to work with. Each of them gave up their time in one way or another, helped to contribute to the yearbook. In addition, I'd also like to thank Mr. Michael Mislak who kindly provided me with pictures when I was in dire need of them.

Furthermore, I must thank Karen Miele who was the yearbook editor last year. Despite being a college student at Westfield State, she took the time and effort to come help me when I really needed it. Although she always joked my yearbook would be better than her's, I hope that my yearbook will be just as good as her's.

Brittany Hebert, Erin Gibbons, Sarah DeWolf, Amanda Amaral, Stacey Seguro, Nicole Silva, Nicole Francisco, Kristen Goncalves, Erin Mislak, Kristina Merced, and Kristen Havens also deserve shout-outs. The people all did something to help me out. Whether it was to visit me because I was alone at school on a Friday night at 10 o'clock, or because I needed someone to write a story, or whatever, they all did something to help. They made my job a little bit easier and a little bit more enjoyable.

Finally, to the class of 2005, what is there to say? I love you, kids. They say that true friends are only a million, but somehow I managed to find 221 of them. I wish every one of you the best of luck and all the success in the world. Go out. Make a difference. But most importantly, be the person you've always wanted to be.

Love always
Ju
